Local Athlete Is 4-Star Performer

Jimmy Torrence is a star athlete and "four talent man" is a witness a sparkling record in four different sports during his high school career at Appomattox High.

This AHS senior not only plays basketball, football baseball, and runs track, but he excels in all of them.

He made the Group II, District IV all-star basketball team this year, the all-star football team in 1963. Injuries last fall forced him to miss several league contests, and a probable repeat in the all-star line-up.

Torrence plans to attend Fer-rum Junior College next year.

As a junior in 1962 Torrence quarterbacked the Rebels through a 7-3 football season and had the team in the thick of district championship battle until near the end of the year.

Last fall, until he was injured, he again led the Rebels in the thick of the conference title fight. With him out of the lineup Appomattox dropped from championship contention.

In basketball this year Torrence helped give Appomattox the tie with Brookville for the District IV Northern Division regular season title. He placed sixth among the leading scorers with 266 points for an average of 15.6 per game.

Torrence alternates between the mound and first base in baseball.

He also stands out in track in which he runs the 880 relays, the 220 yeard dash and the high hurdles.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Torrence, he stands six feet and weighs 172 pounds.

Survey Deadline Set March 27

The Virginia Employment Commission announced today that it will bring to a close the first phase of its labor supply survey, conducted throughout this area since mid-February, on March 27.

A second phase — tabulation, analysis and evaluation of the returns — will begin immediately and should go on for the next several months. Results will then be published.

The survey has been conducted by mailed questionnaires to residents in a large geographical area comprising Lynchburg, Roanoke and the eight surrounding counties.

Manager William C. Page of the Lynchburg VEC office said that returns have come in at just about the expected rate. First returns, he said, were a bit slow, but there has been a steady pickup in response from those who are interested in employment opportunities.

He urged those receiving questionnaires in the mail, who have not yet completed and returned them, to do so before the March 27 survey deadline date.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Adolphus R. Cyrus, who passed away one year ago, March 22, 1963.
Looking back with tenderness
Along the path we trod,
Bless the years we spent with you.
And leave the rest with God.
We cannot say and must not say
That he is dead,
He is just away!
And left us dreaming.
Think of him still as the same,
And say you are gone, but not forgotten.
Never will your memory fade.
The loving thoughts of you will be with us to the end of our days.
Keep him Jesus,
In thy keeping until we reach that golden shore.
Then, oh master, let us have him to know and love as we did before.
Sadly missed by wife, Margaret, children and grandchildren. 3-19-1p
